

Ladies Tea

It's always great to get new ideas and pass them on to one another. I recently attended a ladies tea at Gateway Church in Colorado Springs. A ladies tea isn't necessarily a new idea, but I wanted to share with you some of the 'happenings' that made this tea so enjoyable.

TIMING:

I failed to ask how often they had a ladies tea. However, this tea was the day before Mother's Day, which for me added to the enjoyment of it.

ATMOSPHERE:

The lighting was low and candles were burning on elegantly decorated tables. Lunch was catered in and a delicious dessert was served.

AGENDA:

1. Welcome, lunch, games & prizes. (I have included the games we played as well as a sample of some of the gifts given out. The Bible Quiz was taken as we ate. The Gift Poem was done when most had finished eating.)
2. Worship
3. Anita Renfroe's "Mom Song."
4. Speaker
5. Prayer & closing

As you can see, the agenda was simple. I also met a few women who were attending as guests with their friends. I hope you have found some ideas you can use.

If you have any ideas, either of events you've attended or organized, please pass them along! I'd love to share them!

Be blessed today!
